

A peer-to-peer (p2p) economy is a decentralized model whereby two parties interact to buy or sell digital assets directly with each other, without an intermediary third-party.

platform can enable your traders to trade with other traders around the world, and this shows the greatness of the digital world

WHY P2P IS MOST IMPORTANT IN CRYPTO-COMMERCE To HELP HUMANS COOPERATE

- P2p platform enables a traders to trade with other traders around the world and this shows the greatness of the digital world, where you can trade in an online space the size of the world, and nothing, not even geography. And language is not a barrier.

- it's almost free . Because no fee will be spent on the presence of the intermediary and by eliminating the third party, the cost that belongs to him will be eliminated.